DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on September 16, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-6, 17-20, 24, 25 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Severns et al., US 5,668,102 for the reasons of record in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed September 16, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the Severns reference is drawn to an aqueous rinsing or drying process, rather than the cleaning process recited by applicant. This is not persuasive because step c of applicant's process recites the treatment of laundry in a washing machine with a fabric softener in the presence of a lipophilic cleaning fluid, and this is what the Severns reference discloses, the lipophilic cleaning fluid being an ester of the highly lipophilic dihydromyrcenol. While Severns regards the ester as a perfume, it is nonetheless lipophilic, more so than the parent dihydromyrcenol, and it is used to treat fabric.

Applicant further argues that there is no disclosure of determining whether or not the fluid is lipophilic enough to dissolve sebum. This is not persuasive because making such a determination is not part of the recited process. Applicant states in the specification that lipophilicity can be determined in any conventional way. The examiner has done this by noting that the Clog P of dihydromyrcenol indicates that it is highly lipophilic, and the person of ordinary skill in the chemical art would know that an ester of same would be more lipophilic than the parent alcohol. Furthermore, the Office does not have the facilities to determine whether or not a material dissolves sebum. If applicant were to find that the disclosed dihydromyrcenol esters do not dissolve sebum, this would be afforded patentable weight.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
